The name of Lew Wallace, the author, has been a family name for years. It will be still, notwithstanding that the author's course is run.

A fire patrol at this time is the cheapest and best protection that the city can furnish. The efforts of the authorities will be appreciated.

The Democrats in Burlington have again nominated Mayor Burke for office, and they have excellent prospects of electing him. By the way, Burke is losing his sobriquet as the "blacksmith mayor."

Mr. Hearst is unmistakably at his best as an orator and debater when he keeps silent in all the tongues at his command.—Springfield, Mass., Republican.

It is certain that Mr. Hearst came out a very poor second in his encounter with Mr. Sullivan of Massachusetts.

The Montpelier health officer had "sand" to bring prosecution against the woman who was alleged to have broken the quarantine rules, in the face of the open opposition to such action by the Montpelier board of health. But he had the backing of the state board of health, at any rate.

The following bits were brought out at the investigations of the Vermont State Hospital for the Insane at Waterbury: The fact that a great number of visitors were entertained at the hospital was brought out by Dr. Berry and he said the matter caused a great deal of comment in Waterbury. He said that not only the superintendent entertained company, but that members of the staff and attendants did the same and that he and Mrs. Berry had not been backward in having guests, although he thought their record would compare favorably with others. This he said cost the state much money. He said that various clubs were entertained at the institution from time to time and that a certain church had received contributions, all of which formed a topic of comment and discussion, the wonder being, who paid the bills.

If we remember correctly that was one of the things which caused so much of a howl in connection with the state prison at Windsor.

"VY DER BOLICE!"

On the occasion of the recent visit of President Roosevelt to New York extraordinary precautions were taken to prevent any untoward incidents. Police were everywhere. This so preyed upon the mind of one agitator that he got up on a box and began to harangue. "Vy der bolice?" he cried. "He iss an emperor; he iss an emperor." The agitator might have found an an-aver in himself had he stopped to inquire. He might have learned that just such persons as himself are responsible for the necessity of safe-guarding the life of a man who simply stands at the head of the most free government in existence. Seeing him at the head of the machinery of the government, and egged on by efforts of shameless men and newspapers, they take it into their heads that the President is an emperor, a czar, a cruel, grinding force stamping them into the dust. They therefore cry out against the President. Some of them are stirred to action. It is on their account that the extraordinary police precautions are necessary. If such agitators would only realize that the president of the country is simply an incident in the government there would be no need of such unusual demonstration as was put out in New York; they would realize that the president himself is simply their agent, an agent in a very liberal government.

WATER EXTREMELY LOW.

Chief of White River Junction Fire Department Asks Users to Be Careful.

White River Junction, Feb. 17.—C. R. Jamason, chief of the village fire department, has issued a warning to householders and property owners in fire district No. 1, against carelessness in the use of furnaces and heaters. There is no surplus water in the reservoirs, in fact the supply is hardly normal for winter, pipes are frozen up in many places in the district, and it would not take long for a fire of any extent here, or in West Lebanon, N. H., to use up the available water supply.

William Shattuck is supplying families on Taff's flat with water drawn from the White river, the springs in that locality being frozen up. Old residents say that for twenty-five years the frost was never known to penetrate the ground to the depth it has reached this winter.

NORTHFIELD.

Mrs. Charlotte Wilton died yesterday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Ledyer, on Pleasant street. She had been ill for four weeks with jaundice. Mrs. Wilton was 84 years old and leaves several children.

The date of the meeting of the state tuberculosis commission has been fixed for February 21 at Armory hall, at 7:30 p. m. The meeting is under the auspices of the Northfield physicians. Addresses will be made by several members of the commission.

At a recent meeting of St. Mary's Episcopal society the plans for the new parish house, drawn by Draftsman Petty of Cross Bros., were submitted and adopted. The new building will be erected on the site of the one burned about six weeks ago, will have two stories, the upper story to be finished into a hall for public use. On Saturday night the building committee will be elected and the work begun.

A PRETTY GIFT FOR EVERY HOME

Every Purchaser of Next Sunday's Boston Globe Will Receive a Framed Picture Free.

The Boston Sunday Globe will begin next Sunday to give away, free of cost, a remarkable series of beautiful colored pictures in pretty frames. The series will start with Stuart's familiar portrait of George Washington, in honor of Washington's birthday. All the pictures in the series have been carefully selected and will appeal to the littlest children as well as to the older people. With their pretty frames—and these will be the first framed pictures a newspaper ever gave away—they will be worthy of a place on any wall in any home. The children will have a lot of fun with them.

The demand for them is certain to be general and no one can be certain of getting the entire series unless he orders from his newsdealer in advance next Sunday's Boston Globe, with a famous picture free, frame and all.

Imitation the Sincerest Form of Flattery.—Our Saturday Candy has been the target for cheap talk and imitation ever since we put it before the public, but the Candy has continued a success in spite of the sour grapes. It is in a class by itself and no other candy at anywheres near the price approaches it in quality. It is not sold at 40c and 50c per pound during the week and on that day knocked down to 29c for advertising purposes. We have never misrepresented anything to you yet and we do not intend to now. Our Saturday Candy is not a bargain counter candy; it is a high-grade candy that is worth 40c for every pound, but WE SELL IT IN FULL POUND BOXES EVERY SATURDAY AT 29 CENTS.

THE VAUGHAN STORE
Great Annual SaleOf Popular Priced
Muslin Underwear!

We told you a week ago this would be ready for Saturday, and it is. It is a big assortment of the rarest values we have had the pleasure of offering to the public. Of course it costs a good bit of planning, for such values as we start our sale with Saturday are not procured in a hit-or-miss fashion. Then, too, it takes a decided inclination to sell on the smallest kind of a profit. If this counts for anything, and we think it does, we will have the liveliest Muslin Underwear selling here Saturday the Corner Store has ever known.

Night Robes.—We start the list with Night Robes that many would like to get several of, but we have to limit the quantity to two to a customer. There are just 72 Ladies' Night Robes at 25c each and just 60 Children's Night Robes at 25c each, so don't look for these later than Monday night. (No telephone or mail orders.) We make 50c buy a Robe that represents a bargain of the very highest order—in fact, you will have to figure some to buy the materials for what we ask for the finished article. 65c, 75c and 85c will do equally as good work. When you are here just take a peep at our better ones. We have got them.

Corset Covers.—Sixty Plain Covers at 10c, all sizes, and 60 Trimmed Covers at 10c, all sizes. Think that over a bit and you will be pretty apt to bring your dime here. (We reserve the right to limit the quantity to one person.) Twenty dozen French Covers, trimmed with snow-ball lace, sizes 32 to 40, made of good cloth and perfect fitting. Every whit as good as you generally get for 39c. Sale price, 25c. Remember we can help you to better ones if you want.

Ladies' Muslin Drawers.—To start with we have five dozen for Saturday at 15c per pair, sizes 23, 25, 26 and 29. Twenty dozen Lace, Hamburg and Tucked Trimmed Drawers, good enough to interest your quarters and bound to save them for you. In short, we believe we have got the best Muslin Drawer for 25c that modern industry and human skill can produce. It's to your advantage to buy now. Don't forget if you have got the half or whole dollar we can interest you.

Children's Drawers for less than the cotton costs. Four dozen for 10c per pair, in four sizes. An excellent value for 25c.
